

Los Angeles County Domestic Violence Council
General Meeting
900 S. Fremont Ave., Alhambra Room
Alhambra, CA 91803

Minutes of June 18, 2019

1. Announcements and Introductions

The meeting was called to order by Executive Director Eve Sheedy at 12:00 p.m.

2. Approval of Previous Minutes

A motion was made to approve the May minutes and was seconded. The motion carried with no nays or abstentions.

3. Update/Comments from Executive Director

Ms. Sheedy reported the following updates:

- The It Shouldn't Hurt to Go Home resource booklet has been revised and replaced. It is now called Reaching Out and has been printed in English and translated in 16 other languages. In the next fiscal year, it will be printed in several languages and posted on the DVC website in all languages.
- Ms. Sheedy will coordinate the DV-DCFS Committee with Julianna Lee until someone is identified to fill the co-chair role. The committee is being revamped; a short survey will be distributed to obtain feedback on issues the committee should focus on to support improved communication. The next meeting will likely take place at the end of the summer or the beginning of September.
- The Guide for Effective Response to Domestic Abuse (GERDA) was developed as a protocol for first responders where there were children on the scene of DV incidents. The GERDA executive committee is developing a train-the-trainer training for certain County departments. Ms. Sheedy will meet with ICAN sometime in July to discuss the training and ability to obtain input from council members about the training before it is launched.
- The DVC and Office of Women's Health (OWH) conducted a "Deeper Dive" 11-week training for Public Health employees about domestic violence, human trafficking and sexual violence. Many DV provider agency representatives graciously spoke (for free) at various sessions. Efforts are in place to continue the effort to institutionalize these trainings by seeking additional funding to compensate subject matter experts for their time. Initial plans are to train all DPH employees.
- OWH is also providing a DV/SV/HT training for clinics run by DPH wherein they are working to create "Clinic Champions" that can support work in DV/SV/HT on site.
- DVC recently held a "Domestic Violence in the Workplace" conference for Los Angeles County departmental human resource professionals. Adrienne Green, a

Los Angeles County Department of Public Works employee, shared her personal experience. A significant success of the conference was a presentation from the Department of Human Resources (DHR) team which encouraged internal support and ongoing conversations about domestic violence. Additionally, over 5,600 County staff have completed the domestic violence online training. These efforts are raising the profile of domestic violence throughout LA County.

- One of the impacts if SB 144 passes is a cut to shelter funding paid through batterer's fees. This amounts to approximately $800,000 annually. It's critical if that bill passes, that we find a means within the County to replace those funds or that there be some sort of carve-out to make sure those funds remain available. Conversations are ongoing within DPH.
- The process for providing stipends to help people with lived experience participate in DVC meetings is being finalized. It is expected to be based on an hourly rate of approximately $25 per hour to cover time and to assist with transportation and/or childcare.
- The DVC prepared a paper in support of voluntary use of pronouns in employee signature blocks throughout the department. DPH leadership is in strong support of this effort and has combined it with a similar language-focused project.
- Ms. Sheedy will be away in September on the date of the DVC meeting and offered DVC members the opportunity to lead the meeting in her place. Individuals interested in taking more of a leadership role may benefit from this experience
- The Awards Committee will resume efforts to recognize important efforts in the community. A meeting will be scheduled soon.

4. Immigration Update

Kari White presented an overview of Kids In Need of Defense (KIND) and an immigration update.

- It is recommended to always use the current forms from the website for U-Visas due to constant updates and additions.
- The "means tested benefit" no longer qualifies for a fee waiver.
- Asylum applications now require fees.
- Under the Trafficking Victims Protection Reauthorization Act (TVPRA), minors can go to asylum office instead of before a judge. However, there is an anticipated policy change that will weaken protections.
- Government funding is suspended for shelters/facilities where immigrant children are held, resulting in no education or counseling.

5. Policy Update

- U Visa & T Visa Certification Requests - Assembly Bill 917 (Reyes) reduces the timeline for processing certification requests to within 30 days of the request or, if the person is in removal proceedings, within 7 days of the first business day after the request was received. The bill also requires that state and local law enforcement agencies provide a copy of the police report to the victim, victim's family member, victim's attorney, or victim's fully-accredited representative within 7 days of a request for the police report. The bill passed the Assembly and will be heard in the Senate Public Safety Committee on June 25, 2019.
- Pretrial Diversion for Primary Caregivers - Senate Bill 394 (Skinner) allows courts to grant pretrial diversion to a criminal defendant if the defendant is the custodial parent or legal guardian of a minor child, resides in the same household as the child, and provides a significant portion of the care and financial support that the child needs. This would not apply to defendants charged with serious or violent felonies, as defined by state law. Moreover, the court must determine that the defendant will not pose an unreasonable risk of danger to public safety or to the minor child in their custody if allowed to remain in the community. The bill passed the Senate and will be heard in the Assembly Public Safety Committee on June 25, 2019.
- Domestic Violence Restraining Orders - In Lugo v. Corona, a wife's application for a DVRO against her husband was denied by the family court on the grounds that a CPO [criminal protective order] was already in place. The Court of Appeals reversed the family court decision, acknowledging that criminal and civil protective orders may coexist and the issuance of one does not bar the issuance of the other.
- SB 144 - Eliminates various criminal fees, including mandatory fees imposed on individuals convicted of, and placed on probation for, a domestic violence offense. A portion of these criminal DV fees are used to fund local domestic violence programs. The California Partnership to End Domestic Violence (CPEDV) advocated to create an exception to the bill for criminal DV fees. Although an exception was made for optional court-ordered fees payable to a domestic violence shelter, elimination of the mandatory $500 fee is still included in the bill and is the primary DV fee that goes towards funding local programs. The authors of the bill are from the Los Angeles Area. The bill will be heard in the Senate Public Safety Committee on June 25, 2019.
- HUD's proposed "Mixed-Status Family Rule" impacts immigrant families. Public comment on the proposed Mixed Status Rule is due by July 9, 2019. You can submit comments directly to HUD through the National Low Income Housing Coalition's and National Housing Law Project's joint website regarding the proposed rule: www.keep-families-together.org. The site also includes comment templates that agencies can modify and submit on their own at www.regulations.gov (Docket ID: HUD-2019-0044).
