Children under 6 years old are at highest risk for lead poisoning

48% reported that one or more children under 6 years old live in the home or spent time in the home or yard.

28% reported that one or more persons in the home had their blood tested for lead.

85% reported they were concerned or somewhat concerned about their health or the health of others in their home due to exposure to contamination from Exide.

78% said they were concerned that they or someone would get cancer.

75% said they were concerned that they or someone would get lead poisoning.